State House Has Proposal To Eliminate Death Penalty In Proposed Civil Defense Bill

Harrisburg, Feb. 12—(P)—A proposal to eliminate the death penalty for industrial sabotage from the administration's civil defense program went before the house today for decision.

A showdown in the senate in the deadlock over Governor John S. Fine's cabinet also provided a prospect of fireworks as the general assembly returned for another three-day session this week.

A top administration assembly aide, who declined to be quoted by name, said that Fine agreed to drop the death penalty for sabotage after labor leaders protested against it.

Labor leaders said that under the definition of sabotage in the package of Civil Defense legislation, the death penalty could be used against organized labor.

Flood Conditions In the Northwest Said to be Easing

Seattle, Feb. 12—(P)—Clearing skies and a sharp temperature drop eased flood conditions in western Washington and British Columbia today and the weather bureau said the "worst is over."

Rain-swollen rivers were cresting and slowly receding after a three-day rampage which had left an estimated 5,000 persons homeless.

British Columbia counted at least five dead after a weekend of floods and storms.

A state of emergency was in effect in western Washington and five national guard units were called out as rampaging rivers crashed through dikes and spilled out over the lowlands.

The Red Cross here said national headquarters had made a disaster appropriation for the area.

FUEL FOR COMMERCIAL USE IS IN PROSPECT

Pittsburgh, Feb. 12—(P)—Mild weather and a more abundant supply of natural gas fuel for commercial consumers are in prospect for western Pennsylvania today.

The weather bureau said the mercury will soar to the high 40's and continue the warmup that began yesterday.

Manufacturers Light and Heat Company has restored 50 per cent service to industrial customers. Many had been without gas, except for maintenance purposes, most of last week.

The restoration also affects Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company lines in Maryland and the natural gas company of West Virginia lines.

Independence Hall May Be Known Also As Shrine of Liberation for Europe

Philadelphia, Feb. 12—(P)—Independence Hall—cradle of American freedom—may one day be known also as a shrine of liberation for central and eastern Europe.

In a brief ceremony reminiscent of the signing of the American declaration of independence in 1776, a declaration of liberation for central and eastern European peoples was signed yesterday.

The 160 exiles from 10 iron curtain nations who signed the charter rededicated themselves, among other things, to the principle of a united Europe.

The ceremony was at once a demonstration of stiffening resistance to Soviet domination and an observance of Lincoln's birthday.

Speaking at a luncheon after the signing, Msgr. Bela Varga declared the "single chain of tyranny" forged by the Kremlin around 120,000,000 people from the Baltic to the Adriatic also has "united them in an unshakable belief—nobility expressed by the man whose memory we honor today; a belief that the world cannot long endure half slave and half free."

Msgr. Varga, former president of the Hungarian National Council, was chairman of the group which drafted the declaration.

Many of the exiles wept as they signed the scroll.

Joseph C. Grew, head of the national committee for a free Europe and former ambassador to Japan, said their action "will live in all history."

Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, predicted "the day will come when this declaration of liberation will be on display in every capital of these 10 iron curtain nations."

Movement of Molding Equipment to New Sylvania Plant to Start This Month

L. R. Wanner, plant manager Sylvania Products Inc., parts division, delivered an interesting talk regarding the new Lexington Avenue plant at the noonday meeting of the Rotary club today, during which he said it is expected that the movement of the molding equipment from the East Street plant to the new location will start in the latter part of February.

According to Mr. Wanner it is anticipated that the complete plastic operation will be moved to the new building by May, which includes its operation at Clarendon and Latrobe. Other highlights of his talk includes the following information:

21-Gun Salute For Shah and His Bride

Tehran, Iran, Feb. 12—(P)—The thunder of a 21-gun salute boomed out the news of the Shah's wedding today to lovely Soraya Esfandiari, 19-year-old granddaughter of a once rebellious Persian tribal chief.

Seated before two chief mullahs, Iran's highest religious leaders, the once divorced Shah and his European-educated, half-German bride were wed in a simple Moslem ceremony at Marmar palace.

By order of the Shah, the traditional splendor of Persian court fetes was lacking in the celebration of the wedding.

The only signs of festivity in Tehran were streamers of bunting on the city hall and Gulistan palace, and little red, white and green neon lights set atop poles on the main thoroughfare.

NEWSMAN CASUALTY

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Feb. 12—(P)—Jean Marie De Premonville, 30, war correspondent for the French Press Agency, was killed today on a patrol with U. S. Rangers on the Central Korean front. De Premonville fell with three machinegun bullets in his body. He bled to death on the way to an army aid station. The Frenchman was killed with a patrol on a ridge northwest of Chipyeong, 35 miles east of Seoul. He was in a lookout post when hit.

Vast Ice Jam Creates Water Famine In River Town of 12,000 on Susquehanna

Columbia, Feb. 12—(P)—A vast ice jam has created a water famine in this Susquehanna river town of 12,000, forcing authorities to proclaim a state of "dire" emergency.

In order to eke out the mere trickle coming in, through improvised channels, officials have imposed a rigorous rationing system. Each person is held to one quart of drinking water a day. Water for boiling coffee is all but a forbidden luxury. Bathing and shaving are discouraged. By order of Burgess Walter Royce, all places of business using water for drinking have been closed.

Whatever water can be obtained, Royce ordered, must be boiled. The river remained frozen fast for eight miles, shore to shore, from Marietta to Washington Boro. Columbia stands midway between those river points.

The ice jam caused a freak flood which last Friday sent the river 17 feet above normal level, drove 50 families from their homes, disrupted railroad service and engulfed some highways. The Columbia water works was put out of commission, and several industries closed down.

Main help now is coming in a shuttle truck service from Lancaster, 12 miles east. Water is hauled in tank trucks, commonly used to carry some 35,000 gallons of milk. Residents take jugs or bottles to collect their dose of water from milk cans at various distributing points.

GREAT DEBATE RAGING OVER TROOPS ISSUE

Washington, Feb. 12—(P)—A figure—70,000—emerged today from the growing controversy called the great debate. Some senators said they think military plans call for that many additional U. S. troops in Europe this year.

The lawmakers, who asked that they not be named, added however, that congress may kick the military plans away.

They based their opinion, they said, on an impression gained from Gen. Omar N. Bradley and others that congressional approval of ground force aid for Europe would involve sending about four additional divisions there.

The troops-to-Europe issue will come before the senate foreign relations and armed services committees Thursday. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Secretary of Defense Marshall are scheduled to testify.

In the meantime, the debate roared on, on Capitol Hill and in other forums across the nation.

Thomas E. Dewey loosed a sharp blow last night at the idea of a "fortress America." It is the "utmost of folly" to think this country can be defended by air and sea power without large ground forces, he said.

Thus the New York governor, twice candidate for president on the Republican ticket, expressed a viewpoint differing widely from the stands taken in recent days by former President Herbert Hoover and Republican Senator Taft of Ohio.

Taft said Saturday he may propose limiting American troops for Europe's defenses to a fixed percentage of the nation's ground strength. He suggested 20 per cent as a possible maximum.

The Ohio senator, who heads the Senate GOP policy committee, has challenged President Truman's right to put any American soldiers into the new western European army without congress' consent.

Hoover put forward the idea of a "western hemisphere Gibraltar" in a speech last December. Friday night he spoke out again, saying the United States should put emphasis on air and naval strength and munitions—not on land armies.

Youth Jailed For State House Fire

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 12—(P)—Michigan's state office is a charred, icy ruin because a teen-aged fatted just couldn't face the thought of leaving his wife and baby to go into military service.

Full of remorse over the $4,000,000 fire that burned 45 hours and all but halted operation of the state government, 19-year-old Richard C. Shay is jailed pending a formal arson charge. He is a state highway department employee.

He admitted Saturday night, Prosecutor Paul C. Younger said, that he set the blaze because he thought "a little fire" would get him a probationary sentence and keep him out of the army.

Young Shay, who was an Eagle Scout and had an honorable discharge after 18 months in the naval reserve, told of touching a match to some cotton cord in the building's micro-film office just before going to the bathroom.

He told police he went home to lunch but hurried back and found "terrific heat and smoke." He turned in the alarm.

Allegheny Reported To Be Slowly Rising

Gilbert Reier, Warren borough parks superintendent who has been named U. S. weather observer in this district to succeed Merle (Doc) Jordan, today reported the Allegheny river was rising slowly at Warren, but that there is no imminent threat of a flood.

The gauge at 8 a. m. today read 7.6 feet, a rise of about one-half a foot in the past 24 hours. Flood stage at Warren is 12½ feet.

The ice, which has jammed the Allegheny river channel from the airport upstream as far north as the mouth of the Conewango creek, was reported softening somewhat, and in several places the water has cut a channel through the jumbled mass of ice.

Air Raid Test Pronounced Decided Success So Far As Warren County Is Concerned

County defense officials today pronounced Warren county's part in the week end civil defense air raid test a decided success. Word received here indicates that Warren county is far better prepared than many other municipalities throughout the state.

With observation posts fully manned, and a complete communications network, independent of commercial power, set up, all warning signals were alerted on the "red" signal at 3:32 p. m. Saturday. Within three minutes, all signals were sounding.

Factory whistles at Hammond Iron Works, the Paramount Furniture Company, and Struthers-Wells were sounded. In addition to these, WNAE gave its red alert signal for three minutes, warning all radio listeners of the impending practice attack.

Sirens of the city fire department were sounded from the Hickory street bridge and from each fire station. The police car siren was stationed at Home street school for the upper Conewango section.

The radio warning was relayed over the public address system at Nazarene church to give additional warning in that area of town. The warning emanated from two speakers in the steeple of the edifice.

Of particular importance was the part played by short-wave amateur radio, manned by members of the Warren Radio Club from the office of Prothonotary Ralph E. Sires in the Court House.

Club members installed a sending-receiving set there with receiving stations at the Municipal building, at the WNAE transmitter, at Sheffield, Youngsville, and Clarendon. At the Court House were Jack Nordine and Henry Walker. Stationed in Youngsville were Raymond Rapp and Kenneth Brown. Homer Haines was in Sheffield. Jack Armstrong handled the mobile unit in Warren; and Richard Gilson and Wilson Boyd were at the WNAE transmitter.

Contacts were made with State College, Altoona, Erie, Bradford, and Ridgway, all of whom expressed surprise at the completeness of the local county network.

Scouts of Troop 2, Grace church, who did messenger service were Clark Wright, Harold Erickson, Allan Rydgren and Rudy Johnson. They were the contact between state police and defense headquarters.

Woman "Frozen Stiff" Reported Holding Her Own

Chicago, Feb. 12—(P)—The young negro woman who was found "frozen stiff" last week and amazed and medical profession by surviving the thawing out "was holding her own" today.

Although she was able to say yesterday that "I'm feeling fairly well," physicians at Michael Reese Hospital described her condition as still critical.

The woman, Mrs. Dorothy Mae Stevens, 23, had a body temperature of only 64 degrees—34.6 degrees below normal—when she was found lying in an alley in sub-zero weather, her body rigid and physicians said her blood had chilled to a sludge.

Her's is the first known case of survival from such exposure. The American Medical Association said it had no record of a human surviving a body temperature lower than 75 degrees.

Physicians said Mrs. Stevens has been able to move her hands and feet but that they could not say yet whether any amputations might be necessary. That will depend they explained, on whether gangrene develops.

A rubber tube has been inserted in her neck for feeding purposes.

Neighbors of the Sorensen's aided in carrying out furniture. The home is a new one, built within the last three years.

Friday evening, at 8:40 o'clock, firemen were called to 500 Third avenue where a fire developed in a car owned by Raymond Collins, of Warren. No damage was listed and firemen used no equipment.

At 11:45 p. m. Friday, a short circuit in the wiring of a car owned by William McCausland caused a fire. Firemen went to the 900 block of Conewango avenue where which was gutted, as was one room upstairs.

The blaze was discovered at 5:25 a. m. Saturday, and it is thought, resulted from an overheated furnace. The fire followed a partition beside the chimney into the attic.

Fire Departments in Warren and Nearby Communities are Busy Over Weekend

Warren firemen put in a busy week end with five calls on the books. Little or no fire loss was listed in the borough, but on Conewango avenue extension, a home owned by Harold Sorensen, was damaged to an estimated $5000.

North Warren, Russell and Pleasant firemen provided the bulk of men and equipment to fight the blaze, and the emergency truck from Central Fire Station also responded to the call.

U. N. FORCES ISOLATED BY ENEMY UNITS

BULLETIN

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Tuesday, Feb. 13—(P)—Official reports conflicted today on whether South Korean troops did or did not penetrate North Korea. Latest accounts said they had not in their current push.

Reports to Eighth Army Headquarters Monday and Monday night said a patrol of the South Korean capital division speared five miles north of the 38th parallel—the old demarcation line—took the east coast town of Yangyang and then was forced back four miles by Red counterattacks.

This would have left the South Koreans still one mile north of the old boundary.

Tokyo, Tuesday, Feb. 13—(P)—Combining 60,000-man power with fake surrenders, white flags and handshakes, Chinese and North Korean Reds thrust a wedge seven dangerous miles deep into the Allied central Korean front Monday, isolating some American and South Korean units.

On the east coast latest American reports said a patrol of the South Korean capital division, advancing northward, ran into a Red company almost on the 38th parallel and was forced back south after a fight less than a mile below the old political boundary.

Earlier South Korean official reports had credited the South Korean patrol with a 5-mile penetration into North Korea. The American adviser's report early Tuesday to Eighth Army headquarters said they never crossed the line at all.

The savage Red counterdrive in the mountainous central sector was launched Sunday midnight and pushed by an estimated 60,000 troops throughout Monday on a 30-mile-wide front.

Two American units of undisclosed size were reported cut off north of Hoengsong. They were fighting to crack enemy road blocks that extended two miles along the road south of them. An American relief force was battling up from the south. A South Korean regiment also was reported cut off northeast of Hoengsong.

That town is 55 air miles east of Seoul. Red-held former Korean capital.

KINZUA RESIDENCE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Kinzua volunteer firemen fought a blaze Friday morning at the home of Paul Marrial, on Route 59 at the north end of Kinzua. The fire caused damages estimated at $2500, confined mostly to upstairs bedrooms.

The flames were discovered at 10:45 a. m. in an upstairs chimney. Clothing in the bedroom was destroyed and damage to the furniture was set at $1000. Mr. Marrial is an employee of Sylvania in Warren.

Question of Supervising Principal To Be Discussed at Meeting in Sheffield

Sheffield, Feb. 12—Should Sheffield township schools have a supervising principal is the question before the local school board now. They will have their regular meeting tonight at 7 p. m. in the high school. A committee composed of representatives of the Lincoln and Washington grade school Parent-Teachers associations met in a closed session last week with the board to request the consideration of the board regarding the hiring of a supervising principal for the local schools.

It is believed all board members are in favor of a supervising principal however the problem of financing the position must be met. Although the board has a surplus of $6,000 this could be used up in any emergency.

Next year according to state law the local teachers are entitled to an increment of $200 each which would mean an increase of $5,200 in salary expenditures alone next year.

Another large expenditure facing the township is repair work to the high school in the brick work above the second floor windows. Rain which has seeped behind the flashing has frozen on the walls and loosened the bricks above the second floor windows. If this is not taken care of soon the school roof may be damaged. Exact amount needed for this repair is not known as what a contractor would find after the work is started is now known although an estimate has been made that it might cost $25,000.

State aid to schools is based on enrollment, number of teachers and township assessment. Should a supervising principal be secured next fall it is felt tax millage would have to be raised. The P-TA committees are to consult with their organizations to see if they wish a supervising principal even if it means extra taxation.

Of course it is felt that the supervising principal's salary in time would be offset by his economies. He would be able to consolidate classes, make teaching uniform in the township schools.

TURNPIKE ROAD BLOCK

Pittsburgh, Feb. 12—(P)—A Warrendale land owner has placed a legal road block which may halt work on the western extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Francis S. Hillman charged Robert Miodzik, superintendent of the project, with malicious trespass and mischief. Hillman said a bridge and building have been erected on his four acres of land although demands for payment have been ignored. Work on the turnpike extension was delayed last July by a similar suit.

State Hospital Staff Member to Teach Nursing Technique in Event of Attack

Miss Joan Weiler, of the State Hospital staff has been chosen as a prospective teacher of special nursing techniques that will be needed in the event of enemy attack, Colonel Alton C. Miller, director of the Civil Defense Commission for Pennsylvania, announced today.

Miss Weiler is one of 60 registered nurses who will attend an intensive 3-day course beginning February 14. This course will be held at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, through the courtesy of Dr. Theodore A. Distler, President of the College, who will deliver the opening address on February 14. Dr. Distler was recently appointed Chairman of the Civil Defense Commission, succeeding Major General Richard K. Mellon.

Other nurses in the district who also will attend the training course are Miss Katherine Parker, Tionesta; Mrs. Katherine Schwabebauer, West Hickory; Miss Alvena Franzen, Bradford; and Mrs. Ruth Oliver, Oil City.

The basis of instruction for the 60 nurses participating will be a syllabus prepared by a committee of five Pennsylvania nurses who attended a course in nursing aspects of atomic medicine given last November at Rochester, N. Y., under the auspices of the National Security Resources Board. Members of this committee are: Miss Wilda Camery, Pittsburgh Department of Health; Miss Lois B. Goodman, Assistant Director of Nursing Service, Eastern Area, American Red Cross; Miss Ruth D. Abbott, Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia; Mrs. Lucille Marsh, Pennsylvania Department of Health, Mercer; and Miss Dolores H. Forman, Assistant Executive Secretary, Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association, Harrisburg.

On completion of the February course, each of the 60 nurses will begin teaching a new class of approximately 50, while the original committee of five will conduct another teacher-training course.

Three leading nurses' organizations, working jointly through their district offices, selected the candidates for participation in the February course. Heading this selection group were Miss Mathilda Scheuer, President, Pennsylvania State Nurses Association; Miss Edith Payne, President, Pennsylvania League of Nursing Education; and Miss Mary E. Beam, President, Pennsylvania Organization for Public Health Nursing. Candidates were chosen on a county basis, taking into consideration their potentialities as teachers and their willingness to continue in this work.

Successive cycles in the multiple training program will be designed to provide mobile reserve nursing units available for emergency duty anywhere in the State. The immediate objective is to place at least one nurse fully qualified in the treatment of atomic casualties in every hospital nurses' training school and nurses' agency in the Commonwealth.

Troop 10 Observes Boy Scout Week With a Breakfast

Boy Scout Troop No. 10 sponsored by Holy Redeemer Catholic church, held a father and son communion breakfast on Sunday as part of their observance of Boy Scout anniversary week.

Including the troop committee about fifty men and boys sat down to tables beautifully decorated with a miniature log cabin and bunting-wrapped logs serving as flag-holders.

A delicious breakfast was prepared and served by Mrs. Leonard Hansen and Mrs. Doris McCool assisted by Mrs. Leonard Zobriest, Mrs. Amos Wert, Miss Luella Wert, Mrs. August Cerra, Mrs. Henry Walters, Mrs. Charles Tanguy and Mrs. Margaret Rapp.

Fred Gebhardt, troop committee chairman, served as toastmaster and introduced Father Dailey and Scoutmaster Frank Fago, who both spoke briefly complimenting the new troop on its very rapid progress.

William Hill, a member of the advancement committee of Warren County Council, was then presented as the feature speaker on the program. He explained the necessity of each boy's father spending as much time with his boy as possible, and the great value of the time they could spend together. "Any of the time, and all of the time," said Mr. Hill, "that a father spends with his growing boy, he will someday look back upon as one of the finest memories of his entire life." His talk was amusingly illustrated with feats of magic and sleight-of-hand tricks.

Thanksgiving after the breakfast was given by Fr. Dailey.

To complete Boy Scout Week, a Parents' Night program will be given tonight on the church hall at 8 o'clock for the scouts and both mothers and fathers.

Worship Service At Presbyterian

Members and friends of the First Presbyterian church will hold the second of a series of seven Lenten suppers and worship services at the church Wednesday evening.

The supper will be served at 6 p. m. in the church dining hall by a committee of the Woman's Association. Reservations for this Wednesday's supper must be made with the church office by Tuesday noon. Those planning to attend are asked to bring their own table service and silver.

The worship service will be held at 7 o'clock in the Sunday school room with David Potter the lay reader. Dr. Robert Steen, pastor, will speak on the subject: "We Call Him Lord—And Follow Him." The music will be under the direction of Carroll Fowler, director of music. Members who are unable to attend the 6 o'clock supper are reminded that they are welcome to attend the worship service at 7 o'clock.

A special program has been arranged for small children, between ages of 4 and 10 who attend the supper or who come with their parents to the service that follows. This program is under the leadership of Miss Phyllis Stewart.

The third of the series of services, scheduled for February 21st has been designated as "Men's Night"; though women of the congregation are of course invited to both the dinner and service that follows. This night's program will be sponsored by the newly formed men's organization of the church—"Presbyterian Men". Further information relative to this service will be disclosed in the Church Bulletin next Sunday. At the morning service next Sunday Dr. Steen will use for his sermon the theme: "By That Lone Cross."

LINCOLN'S GREATEST STRENGTH

All over America Abraham Lincoln's birthday is always the high spot of the political speech-making season. Paying tribute to Lincoln is as much the politician's privilege as quoting Thomas Jefferson.

In this time of stress, Americans might well wish that their politicians spent less time in revering Lincoln and more in emulating the fundamental traits that made him a great public servant.

Lincoln stands out in American history because he channeled all his strength into a single great purpose, the preservation of the United States as a union.

He believed in the ideals that justified the existence of America and he believed in the country's future. In the union's darkest day, he did not listen to counsels of despair. He was the voice of courage, of confidence, and yet of compassion.

Above all, his was a voice for unity in allegiance to the American ideal.

Too many of the men who mount platforms to hymn Lincoln's praises will not practice in their daily political lives that same faithfulness to unity.

Seldom in American life has there been a greater need for solidarity of purpose among our people. Yet a lot of our lawmakers, including a healthy number in the august U. S. Senate, pursue their political objectives in utter and complete disregard of that necessity.

Men who cannot suppress frankly political aims in a time of great trial for the nation make a mockery of the annual homage to Lincoln.

The goal of American living is freedom for every individual—in a setting of security—to develop his capacities as richly and fully as he wishes. The pursuit of that goal is not the special prerogative of any political party. No party may feel that its success is synonymous with the nation's success.

Any man who does believe that his party's triumph is absolutely indispensable to America's future is out of place invoking the spirit of Lincoln. For Lincoln was an American before he was a Republican.

In Warren as elsewhere in the state the week-end air raid drills were declared highly successful, but attention should be called to a report by Col. Alton C. Miller, State Civil Defense director, who states that people failed to take the drills seriously enough. The official issues this warning: "It is my conviction that those who aren't taking this seriously are the ones who will not be alive if an atomic attack occurs."

Displays of Valentines in local store windows will be replaced in the next few days by Easter greetings and merchandise. Time marches on!

SELF DENIAL

Text: "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." Matthew 16:24.

Self-denial is basic in Christianity. We get by giving, we grow by dying, we have victory by surrendering. Christ's demand for the self-abnegation of his followers cut across the natural tendencies of the human spirit to re-enact through selfish desires. In this he struck at the root of all clash and strife inherent in the spirits of men.

The call is to "deny thyself." Lose your life—your little—narrow—self-centered realm to which you cling. Do this for a purpose. By self-denial you open the gate to higher living, wider horizons, great spiritual experiences. The rich young ruler who came to Jesus asking the way to obtain eternal life had lived well after his manner of life. But Jesus demanded that he leave it all for a life he did not know and which he could not experience until he broke with bondage that then held his spirit.

Jesus is the eternal pattern for our denial to live. We are told that He for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross and despised the shame. Life through denial is more than an eternal persistency of the spirit. Life through denial is a victorious life. It abounds with the exaltation and joy of achievement. It develops in direct ratio with the degree of our denial. Men who have left country and people and the various material gains to serve others in the far places of the world, embrace the world in their very thought and life. Those who remain at home and pour out their substance for the redemption of life at home and abroad, receive their reward as their gifts may be.

Abraham Lincoln stands high along the road of self-denial. Every picture that has been preserved of our great war president reveals a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. He gave himself to the nation at a time when brother hated brother, when neighbor distrusted neighbor and when the very foundations of a free people rocked with the stress and strain of the struggle. On his birthday, we can recall with profit, his fine example of self-denial.

Melting snow and ice left water from three to eight inches deep standing in sidewalks in some sections of the borough Sunday, making it difficult for pedestrians to navigate, and many took to the slippery and more treacherous roadways.

Snyder Aims at Mr. Average With Suggested Excise Taxes

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—New tax bill proposals unveiled by Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder would hit Mr. Average Guy right where he lives. Congress may of course change Treasury proposals all around before it gets through. But individual income taxes and manufacturers' excise taxes on new autos and a lot of the household appliances people now consider as necessities would be boosted if the general outline of the Treasury's plan is followed.

The tax on a new car which the manufacturer sells to the dealer for $1500 would be raised from $105 to $300. The rate jumps from 7 per cent to 20 per cent. Theoretically this would be a tax on the manufacturer. But he would just collect it for the government, then pass it along to the dealer, who would pass it to the buyer. It would increase retail prices of cars by 10 per cent, or $200 on a $2000 car. Similar excise taxes would also be increased on radios, televisions, phonographs, refrigerators and musical instruments. They would jump retail prices from the present 6 to 15 per cent. A radio selling now for $105, with tax, would go to $115.

In addition to increases on these taxes, the Treasury is proposing that many oil, gas and electric appliances not now taxed should be taxed at 25 per cent of the manufacturers' prices. After much arguing and pressure from manufacturers, Congress will write its own ticket on this one. But the Treasury suggests that vacuum cleaners, washing machines, mangles, dishwashers, dryers, sewing machines, floor polishers, garbage disposal units and electric razors be taxed.

The Treasury proposals increasing manufacturers' taxes on cigars and cigarettes. For cigarettes, the tax would be raised from $3.50 to $5 a thousand. This means raising the tax from seven to 10 cents for a pack of 20. The day of the 25-cent pack of cigarettes would seem to be near, and this doesn't mean just in night clubs. It means over the cut-rate drug store counter.

Cigars are now taxed $2.50 to $20 a thousand, depending on price. Treasury would change this to $1.50 to $37.50. In other words, it would cut the tax on the poor man's stogie intended to sell for two cents each—five for a dime—to 15/100th of a cent per smoke.

Progressively the tax would be raised from the present one cent on a 10-cent cigar, to a little over one and a half cents. And for all cigars costing over 20 cents each, the tax would be raised from the present two cents per cigar to three and three-quarters cents. In other words, the 20-cent cigar will cost 24 cents, instead of 22.

Bowling alleys and billiard tables, instead of being taxed $20 a year each, paid by the operator, would be taxed 20 per cent of the use charge, paid by the customer. Golf green fees on which there is now no tax would also have to pay a 20 per cent of green fee tax. Sporting goods taxes would be hiked from 6 to 15 per cent, retail.

The present 20 per cent tax on jewelry would be extended to silver plated flatware and some fountain pens. The tax on clocks and watches would be increased from 10 to 20 per cent.

Taxes on toilet preparations—now 20 per cent, would be extended to include prepared shampoos.

Taxes on hard liquor would be increased from $1.80 to $2.40 a fifth. Taxes on beer would be upped from $8 to $12 a barrel. This would mean an increase of about half a cent on a glass of beer, and a cent and a half on a bottle.

Still wine taxes would go up from 15 cents to 50 cents a gallon on the ordinary wines, from $2 to $3 on the finer wines. Sparkling wine taxes would go up from 10 to 15 cents on the half pint to 15 and 22 cents—a 50 per cent increase.

Contributor Writes of Activities In Our Busy Suburb of Pleasant Township

An interested resident of the area submits the following newsy letters concerning happenings and activities in the busy suburb of Pleasant township:

These are busy days for the civic-minded citizens over in Pleasant Township. Last week's schedule included meetings of the school board and the supervisors at the school house, an important civilian defense meeting at the Grange Hall and the Founders' Day program of the Pleasant P. T. A.

C. W. Zinger was elected co-ordinator of civilian defense for the township at a meeting of citizens representing Pleasant Grange, the Volunteer Fire Department, School Board, Supervisors, P.T.A. and Political and Industrial Fac-tions. Mr. Zinger has been an active member of the Pleasant Vol. Fire Department since its beginning and is serving presently as president of the trustees of that organization.

Highlights of the P. T. A. gathering were a program of local talent, a fine tribute to the teachers of Pleasant school and a delicious lunch served by the 'Dads' of the organization.

General Business In Leading Areas Shows a Decrease

State College.—Although up 22 percent from a year ago, general business in leading areas of Pennsylvania fell 7 per cent from November to December.

This was reported today by the Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State College. The Bureau also reported that the cost of living continued to soar to an all-time record and rose to 178.1 in December, the years 1935-39 being 100. It was up 6 per cent from a year ago and 1.6 per cent from mid-November. Food costs were up 8.6 percent from those of a year ago and 2.8 per cent from November.

All-time highs for any month in the State's history were reported for bank deposits, postal receipts, telephones, department store sales, factory payrolls, average hourly and weekly earnings in manufacturing, and industrial power sales. Motor car sales continued good with a new peak being shown for the month. Gains over 1949 also were shown in life insurance sales and department store sales, the latter registering again of 11 per cent over the same month in 1949.

Principal areas of the State showed the following gains in December over the same period in 1949: Allentown, 26 per cent; Altoona 47; Bethlehem 18; New Castle 22; Oil City 17; Philadelphia 18; Chester 2; Pittsburgh 30; Reading 14; Sharon 32; Scranton 13; Wilkes-Barre 7; Williamsport 20; and York 28.

The summary for the Warren area reveals that telephones made a new December record, as well as motor vehicle sales. Industrial power sales were up from 1949 but postal receipts declined. Mixed changes were reported from November to December.

LINCOLN'S PRAYERS RECALLED IN CRISIS

AP Newsfeature. In these days when prayer is a response to the world crisis, many people like to remember that President Abraham Lincoln met the crisis of his day with prayer.

In emergency—the siege of Vicksburg or the Battle of Gettysburg—he prayed about these and said so. One of his body guards, Col. W. H. Cook reported that every morning at 8 o'clock, Lincoln would go into his study by himself and read a chapter or two of the Bible. He also often read the Bible to his family.

When Fremont was boomed as a Lincoln opponent, it was reported to Lincoln that only about 400 people attended a Fremont meeting. The President opened the Bible to a little known passage (1 Samuel 22:2) and read:

"And every one that was in distress and every one that was debt, and every one that was discontented, gathered themselves unto him; and he became a captain over them: and there were with him about 400 men."

But Lincoln, who often went to church, was a member of no church. Once when asked why, he said:

"Because I have found it difficult to give assent to their long and complicated confessions of faith. When any church will inscribe over its altar the Savior's condensed statement of law and the Gospel 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and love thy neighbor as thyself,' that church will I join with all my heart."

The first one by 8 p. m. and then went on from there. Lights did not flash on in the Townville High school gym until two minutes after

Married Saturday In St. Paul's Church

MR. AND MRS. ROSS S. MILLER

At 2:30 p. m. Saturday in St. Paul's Lutheran church, the Rev. Nore G. Gustafson, pastor, united in marriage Donna June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Sasserson, 200 Park avenue, and Ross S. Miller, Warren R. D. 1, the son of Wade Miller, Clarion.

Mrs. Emil Jacobson, church organist, played traditional bridal airs, including the Wagner and Mendelssohn marches, and was accompanist for Barbara Lyle, of Barnes, who sang "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Promise Me."

Wearing navy accessories and white camellias with a gold-colored suit, the bride had as her only attendant, Nancy Papalia, who wore navy accessories and a yellow rose corsage with a suit of orchid color.

Lloyd Miller served as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Sasserson chose a navy crepe frock, black accessories and corsage of yellow roses for her daughter's wedding.

The reception followed at four o'clock in the Sasserson home, with 14 invited guests. Centering the bride's table was an attractive arrangement of yellow carnations and roses, with white candles.

After a wedding trip to Reading and other eastern points, the couple will make their home at 300 Crescent Park. For traveling, the bride selected a red flannel dress and black accessories. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller are employed locally, the bride in the office of Sunray Electric, Inc., and the bridegroom at the New Process Company.

Saturday Ceremony In Russell Unites Margaret Ramsdell-William Granquist

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD WILLIAM GRANQUIST

Baskets of white glads and carnations, with candelabra holding white tapers, were used in pretty decoration of Russell Methodist church Saturday afternoon, when Rev. John L. Buck performed the three o'clock ceremony uniting in marriage Margaret Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ramsdell, Russell, and Harold William, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Granquist, 1509 Madison avenue, Warren.

At the organ for the wedding music was the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Mack, Russell, with another sister, Mrs. Chester Anderson, singing "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a suit of beige pin-point wool, black velvet accessories and a double corsage of Tallisman roses. Her twin sister and only attendant, Mrs. Marjorie Phillips, wore a red wool gabardine suit, black velvet accessories, and yellow rose corsage.

Richard Nielson was best man for Mr. Granquist and ushers were Chester Anderson, Robert Mack and Willis Phillips, brothers-in-law of the bride; John Nordine, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother chose a green print, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of white roses, and Mrs. Granquist wore pink roses with a navy ensemble.

The reception followed immediately in the church parlors, where the bride's table was set for 16 and featured a four-tier decorated cake and white candles. A buffet holding the coffee service was centered with pink sweet peas, as was the bridal table.

A guest list of 120 included relatives and friends from Warren, North Warren, Jamestown, Falconer, Frewsburg, Russell and vicinity.

The couple left later for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wearing her beige wool suit and a copper-colored coat.

Graduate of Russell High School in 1947, she had been honored with pre-nuptial parties given by Mrs. Nordine Granquist, Mrs. Mabel Phillips, Mrs. Robert Mack, Mrs. Chester Anderson, Mrs. Willis Phillips, Mrs. Arthur Briggs, Jr., and her Sunday school class, with her parents giving the rehearsal party at the family home.

Mr. Granquist was graduated from Warren High in 1947 and is employed by the Bell Telephone Company.

★ RUTH MILLETT ★

TRYING to describe another woman, the woman speaking searched around for words and then finally said: "This doesn't sound kind, but the only way I can describe her is to say that she is 'the mousy type'."

Quite a few thoroughly nice women make that kind of impression on others. Yet no woman, of any age, ever needs to be the kind of person others think of as "mousy."

How to avoid it? Start with your looks. If you think you are rather nondescript-looking, get some zip into the picture you present to the world. You can do it easily through a graceful walk, a becoming and up-to-the-minute hair style, careful make-up, and clothes that make a definite impression.

COME OUT OF YOUR SHELL

THEN work on your personality. The mousy type acts almost scared when she meets strangers. So avoid that withdrawn, frightened appearance, by looking right at the people who talk to you. Make some kind of small talk when the occasion demands. Let your face respond to what others say, instead of seeming to let nothing touch you.

Don't stand back waiting for others to make the first move toward friendliness. That is what the mousy little woman does. Make you liking for a new acquaintance felt. You can't go wrong by showing others you like them and enjoy their company. That is the sincerest kind of flattery—and everybody eats it up.

And don't be forever apologizing for yourself. Do what you think is right. Do as well as you can. And then let other people take it or leave it. How awful for any woman to be described as the "mousy type." How awful—but how absolutely unnecessary.

Three Accidents Are Investigated By State Police

State police list three accidents over the week end with two persons injured.

Mrs. Caroline Davis, of Farrell, was given emergency treatment at Warren General Hospital yesterday when a car, operated by Roy Mikis, also of Farrell, skidded and rolled over on Route 62 a short distance south of the Irvine bridge. She was discharged following treatment for chest injuries. Her daughter, Judy, also slightly injured, was not hospitalized.

The accident took place at 3:20 p. m. Sunday, and police estimated damage to the car at $125.

Early Saturday morning, on Route 6 two miles east of Warren, cars operated by Clifford L. Fitzgerald, of Warren, and Agnes Champion, of Tiona, collided with $175 damage resulting. No one was injured.

At 12:20 p. m. Saturday, cars operated by Alan Babcock, of Warren, and Claire Potter, of Youngsville, collided at the Irvine bridge over the Brokenstraw. Damage was estimated at $300, and no one was injured.

Police said that Babcock, proceeding toward Warren, skidded as he left the bridge and struck the Potter car, headed west in a line and waiting to enter the bridge.

Hospital Fire To Be Investigated

Philadelphia, Feb. 12—(P)—Coroner Joseph Ominsky is planning an investigation of the Philadelphia State Hospital fire in which three women patients died.

Simultaneously, the coroner said yesterday, he will inquire into 10 fatalities from skull fractures he said had occurred at the institution during the last several months.

Ominsky said he hoped to conduct the inquiries on the hospital grounds within two weeks "to clear up the whole matter."

Fire Marshal George Kingston charged yesterday the blaze Saturday night was set deliberately by two or three inmates who found a package of matches in a linen closet.

He said the fire was started during the absence of a woman attendant who had tried to quiet two unruly patients.

The two-story structure was occupied by 76 negro women patients.

THE NATIONAL GAS SHORTAGE

What Are We Doing About It in Your Community And How You Can Help

The whole country has been experiencing an almost unprecedented cold wave. Gas wells, even in Texas, have frozen and become unworkable. Millions of people have suffered. The Columbia Gas System and your gas company are doing everything possible to get more gas to you. As soon as we can squeeze another cubic foot out of our pipes, you'll get it.

Every man in the gas industry is working with every means in his power to bring more gas to you. Gas for industrial and commercial purposes has been drastically curtailed in order to provide the utmost gas for you.

In the meantime, here's how you can help:

1. Shut off heat in and close every possible spare room.
2. Keep room temperatures at a very minimum.
3. Postpone any washing, laundering or ironing requiring use of gas.
4. Use cooking ranges as little as possible—not for room-heating purposes.

What Caused This Gas Shortage in Your Area?

1. Average temperatures are running 8 to 10 degrees below normal.
2. Over 12 billion cubic feet of gas expected from suppliers in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma were not received due to unavoidable delayed construction of pipe lines from those areas.
3. The war in Korea caused industrial requirements alone to run at over 50,000,000 cubic feet per day more than expected.
4. Therefore, our gas stored underground is over 30 billion cubic feet less than needed.
5. Because of the railroad strike we have been unable to replenish immediately our supplies of Propane Gas, used for just such emergencies. These are now near exhaustion.

These are the conditions, all beyond our control, which have caused your local gas shortage.

County defense officials present at headquarters were W. F. Clinger, Judge Allison D. Wade, Sheriff L. E. Linder, Ben Kinnear, W. C. Fuelhart, Prothonotary Ralph E. Sires, Francis J. The only planes sighted in Warren county were seen at Youngsville where they circled the town twice just before the red alert was sounded. They were three Army planes flying in formation, but it is not known from where they came.

Those in charge reported that the "yellow" alert, the preliminary warning, was received at 3:07 p. m. Saturday, followed by the "blue" signal at 3:12. The "red" alert was received via radio from Erie at 3:32 p. m., and the "all clear" received at 3:41 p. m.

Sunday, with posts and equipment still manned, a preliminary warning was received, but before the "blue" and "red" signals came, the practice was cancelled by state headquarters.

area to cut the Hongsong-Wonju road.

Field dispatches said the situation was confused and serious. The Communist counter-offensive—a typical maneuver launched at night with massive forces at the weak point—threatened to wipe out the big Allied gains of the past 18 days in the central sector.

On the western front, the Allies had swept Saturday into Seoul's industrial suburb of Yongdungpo, its big airport at Kimpo and its seaport of Inchon.

But the four or more Allied divisions massed around Seoul in the west and the South Koreans inside North Korea on the east coast could be forced to pull back for their lives unless the Communist smash in central Korea is stopped.

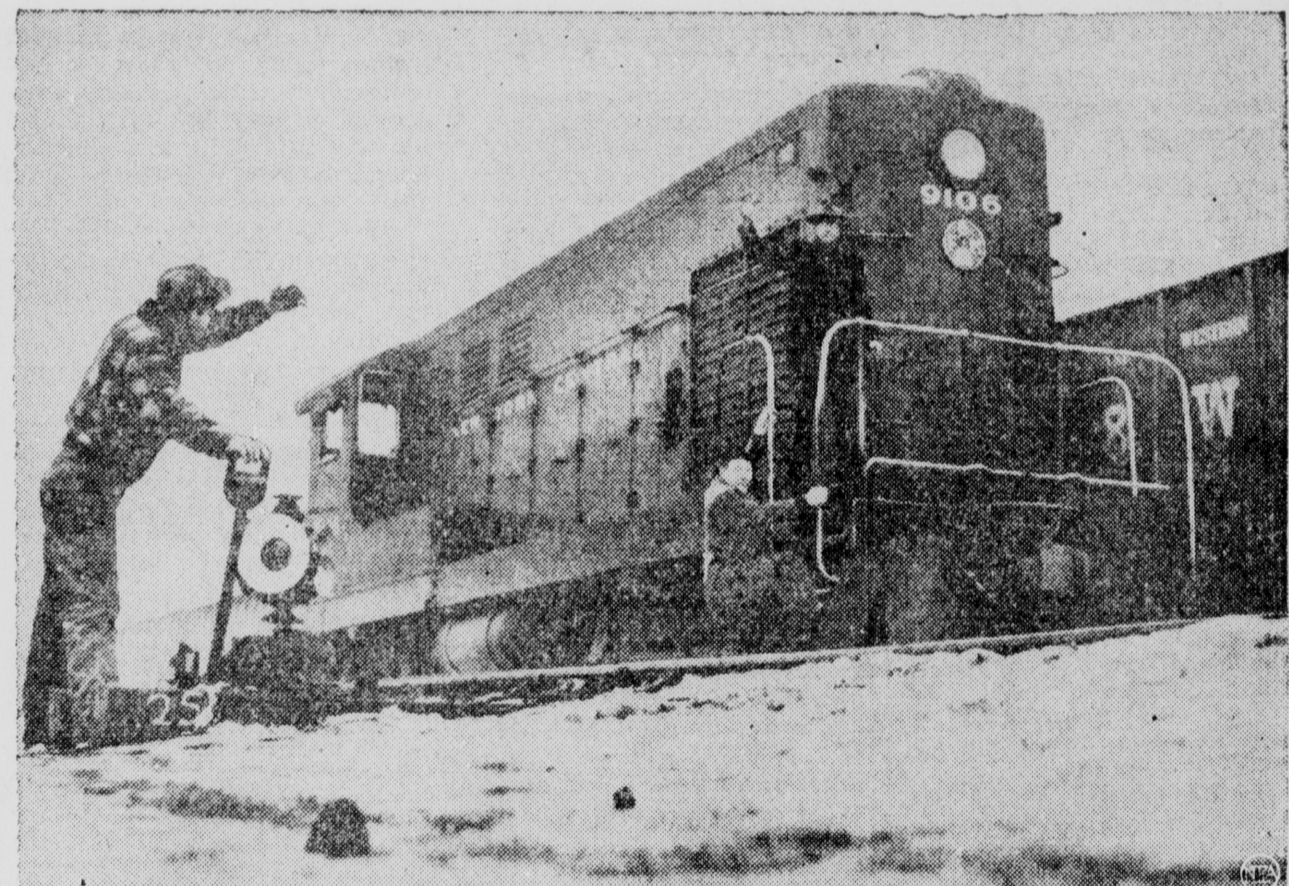

On the central front, the Reds were attacking Hongsong from three directions. Hongsong is 10 miles north of Wonju, the road center where the U. S. Second Division with French support smashed an earlier Red drive that permitted the Allies to launch their own offensive Jan. 25.

Meadville Cagers Lead Sect. 2 Race After Win Over Dragons

Meadville Bulldogs, cellar-dwellers in the Section 2 basketball league for the past several seasons, today holds the lead in the 51 campaign and gives every indication of staying there. Meadville whipped the Warren Dragons, 61 to 41, at Beatty gym today night for their fifth league triumph in six starts. At the same time, the up and down Rockets were shaded, 41 to 27, by the Franklin squad. Prior to Friday night's clashes, Meadville and Titusville were sharing the top rung of the ladder. Section 2 league action Friday night will pair Franklin against Meadville at Meadville and Warren against Oil City at Oil City. Meadville currently is playing a top-flight brand of ball, and their triumph over Warren was number nine in a row. The fact that they beat Hickory, Mercer county leaders, and Titusville, gives some indication of their strength.

Height helps them a lot, with three of the starting five standing well over the six foot mark. They controlled both boards and counted a lot of their points on tip-ins which the smaller Dragons couldn't stop.

Meadville racked up a 17-9 advantage right off the bat, but the Dragons closed the gap to 17-13 by end of the first stanza, and succeeded in knotting the count, 19-19, midway in the second frame. The Massmen continued their spurt and ahead, 25-23, in the same frame. But three quick baskets for Meadville put the Crawford Counts ahead for keeps.

Bob Foley, Warren guard, turned in a nifty one-man scoring performance with his 19 points, representing nine baskets and a free throw. Mel Grosch stood second high on the Warren scoring ladder with 10 points.

Four of Meadville's starting five scored 10 or more points. Kiser had 18, Bossard 17, and Davis and Leech 10 each.

Defending Champ Shoots Into Lead In Singles Event

Harry Wooster, defending champion, shot into the lead at the half-way mark in the 1951 Warren County Men's Singles Championship Tournament at the Penn Bowling Center last night. Harry posted games of 187, 202, 212 and 219 for a nifty 820 total. This score, added to his first round scores, gives him a 1612 total.

However, the big score in last night's round was a thumping 862 fired by Paul Coppola, on games of 248, 158, 224 and 232.

It gave Paul a total of 1599 and second place. Frank Willard, who set the pace in the first round a week ago, slipped to third high position with 1589.

It was a big evening all the way around for four-game 800 strings. Ralph McCloskey shot 802 to boost his total to 1565; Frank Gerardi notched 801 and raised his total to 1563; and Barney Senger fired 810 to make his total 1535.

Others in the top ten in the championship division are Nummy Wooster, 1528; Bob Check, 1513; Myer Pappalardo, 1508; and Harold Clepper, 1470.

Coppola leads the handicap division with 1711. Next in line are Harry Wooster, 1676; Willard, 1669; McCloskey, 1637; Gerardi, 1635; Senger, 1623; Allan Johnson, 1610; Gene Pring, 1590; Pappalardo, 1588; and Merle Sterling, Harold Still and Bud Leuthold, all with 1566.

The third block of four games will be rolled next Sunday evening, with shifts at 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock.

In a match game rolloff among the leaders of the recent Women's Singles Championship tournament, Peg Finley shot into the lead in the Class A bracket with a Peterson point system rating of 32½ points. Betty Gray leads the Class B performers with 31 points.

A FIEND IN NEED

By MILTON K. OZAKI

Chapter One

I WAS in the doghouse, definitely and literally, and all because Professor Caldwell had decided to rig up a dog pen as a laboratory demonstration of animal learning.

The dog had to be fed every four hours, the idea being that if food were put into one end of the box, the dog would do his darndest to get to it. He'd scratch and paw and plunge around until he pressed the lever. After awhile, providing the dog had any sort of brain at all, he'd begin to associate the touching of the lever with the opening of the door, and by and by, getting at the food would be no problem at all to him. That would be evidence of animal learning—and I would be released to normal life. Every time I approached the lab I rolled my eyes toward heaven and prayed that Stinky would be a little smarter.

I kept thinking about the dog as Caldwell and I walked north on Rust Street toward Goethe Street.

Professor Androcles Caldwell, Ph.D., was head of the psychology department of North University, and, incidentally, my boss. I was his secretary, his general factotum, his neophyte, his whatever-he-willed. That's the way it was, and that's the way I knew it'd be until I finished plowing my way through the Graduate School and got by M.S. in psychology.

Caldwell's pace increased as we approached Goethe Street, and, looking ahead, I saw the building we were headed for. I started to glare at it resentfully, then I blinked and widened my eyes. It was incredible. It was wonderful. "Thomson isn't home," I said pleasantly.

"Nonsense." Caldwell's reply was blunt. "Professor Thomson is expecting us."

"There aren't any lights in his apartment," I said.

"Professor Thomson is expecting us," Caldwell reiterated.

I shrugged, preceded him up the steps of the building. It was a four-story brick building housing eight apartments.

I jabbed the self-service elevator button with my thumb, saw the red IN USE signal light up, and tapped my foot impatiently while the cage descended.

I said the door back and was pulling at the inner brass grille when I saw it.

"Sorry, Prof," I said gravely, "but I think we ought to go back to the lab and see how Stinky is."

I let the door of the elevator bang shut.

"Bendy—" Caldwell peered at me. "Are you ill?"

"I signed. 'No, sir,' I said. "Unless you are ill, we will proceed as planned."

I sighed again, slid the elevator door open, and pulled back the brass grille. "After you, sir," I said.

Caldwell stepped into the cage. The next moment he was out of the cage. He reached up, removed his pipe from his mouth, and pushed it into his jacket pocket.

"Let's go home, or to the lab, or to a movie," I pleaded. "You know what happens when we get involved in a murder."

"Lieutenant Phelan," Caldwell murmured in a meditative tone. "You had better phone him."

THE body wasn't a pretty sight. The man was sitting on the floor of the elevator with his back against the right-hand wall and the brown hilt of a knife protruding between the lapels of his coat.

I could hear the wail of a police siren approaching fast. I went outside and waited on the curb. Lieutenant Phelan, whose two-hundred seventy-five pounds filled his nondescript brown suit almost to bursting, hurried toward me with a speed astonishing for a man his size.

"Where is it?" Phelan demanded without preamble.

"Inside," I said, waving toward the door.

More cars arrived just then. Another half-dozen coppers crammed into the small lobby. A photographer angled his camera and began to flash bulbs. Eventually the police doctor arrived. He knelt beside the body, examining it briefly and then stood up, wiping his hands.

"How long ago'd it happen?" Phelan demanded.

"I'd guess about sixty to ninety minutes ago."

"Let's see"—Phelan glanced at his watch—"that'd make it between six and six-thirty."

"That's just a guess," the doc reminded him. "I'll have the lab make out a detailed report."

"What do they do?"

"They're stenographers. I guess." "Pretty ritzy apartment for three stenographers, isn't it?" Phelan asked.

"Well, the rent's one-hundred and fifty a month. Split three ways, it ain't so much."

"Says you," commented Phelan. "Well, get on to the next floor."

"Mrs. Damon Ross has 4-A. She's old and an invalid. Her husband died and left her a pile of money, and she's got a nurse and a maid in the apartment with her."

"Ross?" Phelan's brow wrinkled into an expression of concentration. "Is that the Ross who owned a coal yard? Died about three years ago?"

"That's the one, sir. Damon Ross. Ross Lumber and Coal Company. She's been very sickly ever since. Hardly ever leaves the building except in a wheel chair with her nurse. It's too bad. He wagged his head sympathetically.

"Go on," Phelan prompted.

"Yes, sir. Across the hall from Mrs. Ross there's Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dougle in 4-B. He's a contractor. His wife's name is Bertha. She's a lot of fun. Likes to joke."

"That's the lot?"

"Yes, sir."

"All right, Bonquist. That's all for now," Phelan gave him a shrewd glance. "Not married, are you?"

"The janitor looked startled. 'Sure I'm married. Why?'"

"You seem pretty familiar with the women in the building."

"Oh, that," Bonquist waved one hand carelessly. "That's because I see them around more than I do the men. Most of the men are away all day. It's the women who are always coming around with complaints, things to be fixed, and so on."

"I see," Phelan granted a dismissal. "Davids, stay here and keep people out of the lobby. Lock the front doors and keep them locked. Don't let anyone in or out—and I mean anyone. Understand?"

"Sure, Lieutenant." Detective Davids nodded agreeably and adjusted the bolt on the front door.

The body wasn't a pretty sight. The man was sitting on the floor of the elevator, the brown hilt of a knife protruding from between his coat lapels.

Haircut Prices In Sheffield Boosted

Sheffield, Feb. 13.—Sheffield, one of the few remaining communities with a 75-cent haircut, has finally lost that with the announcement over the weekend by the local barbers of increased prices effective today. Prices were raised because of the increased cost of living. An adult's haircut will now cost him
90 cents and a child's, 75 cents.
These prices are still lower than in many communities.

Conservation education will be given a tremendous boost during Boy Scouts Anniversary Week, February 6-12, when the major emphasis in the program of this fine organization will be toward conservation education activities.

The aim of the Scout conservation program is to focus the attention of the entire Scout membership on local problems that affect local communities, and to demonstrate methods and techniques for helping to solve those problems. In carrying out this program Scout camp properties will be converted into "conservation laboratories" where both boys and adults may learn the technique which may be applied to their home communities.

The importance of sound conservation education has always been recognized in Scouting, but the need for active participation in real grass-roots projects, on the ground, has now been given full recognition so that the policy makers of the Boy Scouts of America are willing to shape their Boy Scout program in such a way that this is fully accomplished.

The youth of the mid-twentieth century must face the sober fact that he is living in a world where freedom was never in greater danger, and on a continent with no new frontiers left to plunder. If our way of life is to be preserved, and the arm of liberty is to be strengthened the youth of tomorrow must learn to use wisely, and without abuse, the timberland and farm land that is now left on this continent.

They can, however, create new frontiers by helping to build up the depleted soils and forests to full productivity.

Every watershed in the continental United States offers a challenge. All have at one time or another been seriously disturbed by unsound and out-right destructive practices.

To many youths, and adults, such watersheds appear to be in good condition. They fail to understand the difference between normal or geologic erosion, and accelerated, man-caused erosion.

Only to the trained eye does the real condition of these watersheds stand out with unmistakable clarity. If the carrying out of this ambitious program by the 45,000 Scout Troops and 8,000 Explorer Units, creates in the youth of America the trained eyes that can diagnose that "cancer of the land", soil erosion, in its incipient stages, or destructive cutting practices in our forests, it will contribute more toward good citizenship than any other program among our youth.

We are fortunate in this area in having a Pennsylvania Department of Forests & Waters; a Pennsylvania Game Commission; a Pennsylvania Fish Commission; a Soil Conservation Service, and a U.S. Forest Service with its nearly half million acres of national forest land on which to demonstrate good conservation practices. All of these agencies have trained technicians able and willing to help the Scout Conservation program go over the top.

The great meteor shower of Nov. 13, 1933, was taken as an omen of the forthcoming end of the world.
